Jennifer Morrison: Spring, Debut Contemporary, London

Squall, Jennifer Morrison

The South African born, British based artist explores rhythm and movement through her use of colour and shape

THURSDAY, JUN 18- MONDAY, JUN 22

Debut Contemporary is hosting a solo exhibition by South African-born, British based artist, Jennifer Morrison. Working intuitively, she explores juxtaposition, repetition, movement and rhythm and although she has lived in London for two decades, the colours of her native country have never left her and remain a central influence in her work.

Morrison has always been more interested in colour and shape and materials than in social or political or personal commentary or content. She likes the way that abstraction allows for ambiguity and eschews definitive answers or didactic explanations, preferring meaning, if it is found at all, to be open.
